

Notice regarding 10-day Holiday in April - May 2019

Japanese 10-day holiday related to the Imperial succession starts from Saturday, April 27 and ends on Monday, May 6. Japanese financial markets such as equities, derivatives, and commodities are closed for this period and resume on Tuesday, May 7.

Please note the following during this period.

- Since the markets are closed, Nikkei Stock Average (Nikkei 225) and other Nikkei indexes on Japanese market, including those jointly operated by the Tokyo Stock Exchange or Tokyo Commodity Exchange will not be calculated. And so, there will be no data updates on the website. Nikkei 225 Currency Hedged Indexes and JPX-Nikkei 400 Currency Hedged Index dated April 26 will be updated on the next business day, i.e. May 7 as usual.
- Nikkei Asia300 Index and Nikkei Asia300 Investable Index are calculated during these holidays except Saturday, Sunday and May 1 when all the markets which are covered by these indexes are closed.
- For the details of the trading of the financial products related to the Nikkei 225 etc., please contact relevant exchange or financial institution.
- Index Business Office of Nikkei will also be closed. The responses for the inquiries received during the holidays may be delayed.