Nikkei to launch a web-based info service for JPX-Nikkei 400

Nikkei Inc. has launched a web-based information service for JPX-Nikkei 400 as of April 23rd

2014. The index has been calculated and published since January 2014, which had been jointly developed by Nikkei Inc., and Japan Exchange Group, Inc. and Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc.

The web service is called "Premium Data Package for JPX-Nikkei 400", which is a paid subscription-based information service for professionals who manage products tracking the

JPX-Nikkei Index 400. It focuses on the JPX-Nikkei 400 while the ongoing "Premium Data Package" provides the information on all of the Nikkei indices such as the Nikkei Stock Average (Nikkei 225), Nikkei 300, Nikkei Stock Average Volatility Index etc. published by Nikkei.

The subscribers of the new web service are able to download the JPX-Nikkei 400 related data including the index level, and constituent (stock, shares, Free-Float Weight and divided) from the registered website and receive emails on the index related news such as changes in the constituents.

For the further information, the usage fee and detailed information on the contents, please visit the "Premium Data Package" brochure page or contact Index Business Office, Nikkei Inc.
