

Discontinuation of the Calculation of the Nikkei Climate PAB Index

September 8, 2026 – Considering the current index usage conditions, Nikkei Inc. will discontinue the calculation of the Nikkei 225 Climate Change 1.5°C Target Index (EU PAB) with the final calculation to be conducted on October 30, 2026.

Please note that the historical index values and other information will continue to be provided for the time being, since the web page of the index will remain available on the "Nikkei Indexes", Nikkei's official index website, even after the cessation of the calculation.
