

Nikkei 225 and Nikkei 300 to publish component weights

Nikkei Inc. publishes the constituent weights (each ratio included in the index) of the Nikkei Stock Average (Nikkei 225) and Nikkei Stock Index 300 (Nikkei 300) respectively. The publication will be done in principle twice a year, figures in April and October, corresponding to requirements from investors. On the first publication, the figures were dated October 2nd, after the last annual reviews, disclosed about 2 months after the data date. The figures plan to be published in a week after the data date in the future.
