

Advanced notice info and index tickdata added to “Premium Data Package”

Nikkei Inc. has added the following data files on the “Premium Data Package” (PDP), subscription-based web data services of Nikkei Indexes version and JPX-Nikkei 400 version as of June 1st 2015.

1: Advanced Notice Data on Nikkei 225 and JPX-Nikkei 400

The PDP started providing the information (csv file data) related to forthcoming changes in the 2 indexes, the Nikkei Stock Average (Nikkei 225) and the JPX-Nikkei Index 400 in as “Advanced Notice Data”. The newly added data file includes not only forthcoming component changes but also changes in the presumed par values and corporate actions which could be related to changes in the weights about the Nikkei 225 and forthcoming changes in FFWs (Free Float Weights) about the JPX-Nikkei 400.

2: Tickdata on Nikkei 225, Nikkei volatility index and JPX-Nikkei 400

The PDP also provides the tickdata (csv file) in the past (one week) on the Nikkei 225, the Nikkei Stock Average Volatility Index (Nikkei 225 VI) and the JPX-Nikkei 400, which are underlying indexes of the index futures listed on the Osaka Exchange.

The subscribers of the each PDP are able to download the index related data including the total return index level, and constituent (stock, shares, Free-Float Weight and dividend) from the registered website and receive emails on the index related news such as changes in the constituents just after Nikkei’s announcements.

For the further information on “Premium Data Package”, please contact Index Business Office, Nikkei Inc.