

New functions added to “Nikkei Indexes” website

Nikkei Inc. has added the following new functions to the official index website “Nikkei Indexes”.

(1) Intraday chart on the top page

The intraday chart of Nikkei 225 on a day and current index value appears alternately every 10 seconds on the top page. Manual selection between index value and intraday chart is also available by clicking the circle button at the bottom.

(2) Pagination to the “News&Release” corner

Each page displays 10 articles and more articles can be displayed across multiple pages.. Clicking the numbered buttons at the bottom displays the target page. A user also could narrow down by clicking the keyword tags if there are too many target pages.