As a result of the review, there is no constituent change in the Nikkei 225 Domestic Exposure 50 Index. Since current number of constituents of the Nikkei 225 Global Exposure 50 is 49, a Nikkei 225 constituent with the highest overseas sales ratio is added. The number of constituents returns to 50 after this addition.

The constituents of these indexes are chosen from the Nikkei 225 constituents by overseas sales ratio. The lowest 50 constitute “Domestic Exposure 50”, while the highest 50 constitutes “Global Exposure 50”. These indexes were launched in April 2019 and announced daily. This is the first annual review.
