

Changes to the Index Guidebook of the Nikkei Progressive and High Dividend Stock Index

March 24, 2025 – Nikkei Inc. will revise the Index Guidebook of the Nikkei Progressive and High Dividend Stock Index which will become effective from June 30, 2025. The liquidity criteria (such as the 500-million-yen threshold of the annual average daily trading value) will be added to the selection rule of the new constituent stocks at the periodic review. The condition of reducing the weight of constituent stocks with low liquidity will be also added to the calculation rule.

Please refer to the revised Index Guidebook for details.
